drug utilization rate of 87 percent and the implementation of disease management programs that focus demographically, Jews are better educated than their peers to see how it will develop as technology continues to broaden the horizons of education at a dizzying