the pharmacist said the woman, later identified as Nicole M

A resultant tissue hypoxia might well explain part of the observed increase in cerebral blood flow.

An average lean weight gain of 4.4 pounds compared to a loss of approximately 0.3 pounds of lean weight.