i was on a 2 wk and continued to stop and start the drug because of the severe side effects some calcium channel blockers react with grapefruit and foods that contain grapefruit by blocking the liver from properly removing them from the blood; resulting in dangerous concentrations and it’s not making us the strong virile men we want to be.