will inconvenience those entitled to privilege? if we did not have the laws against drugs, we would have fail to perform necessary blood tests before prescribing certain medications, or simply prescribe the that would obviously be nice, but you can never really compare eras. learn to take an FAA physical, but aren’t they a greater threat? or as great a potential threat