The most common symptom is abdominal pain, which is seen to increase or decrease in severity according to mealtimes, based on the classification of the peptic ulcer.

Unfolding on a gorgeous exterior -- a sun-washed stone terrace set against a sapphire-blue Mediterranean

Commission was working on an assessment of the agreement, which it would present by the end of the year.

It bought a 45 percent stake in the chemist in June 2012.